Activities Of Interest To Citizens Of The Town Of Appomattox

(The following is the first in a series of articles written by William S. Slagle, Town Manager, regarding activities by the local government. The articles should prove interesting and helpful to the citizens of the town and the county.)

SEWERAGE PROGRAM

Approximately three years ago, the Town Manager ran a stream assimilation study in accordance with State Water Control Board methods for a proposed regional sewage treatment plant. This study indicated that this plant should be located at the confluence of Caldwells Creek and Falling River. The study was strongly influenced by the most cost-effective alternative, also taking into consideration the anticipated sewerage needs of the Town and County for the future.

Later, Roy F. Weston's Consulting Engineering Firm of Westchester Pennsylvania concurred with the Town study when they prepared the Metropolitan Water Quality Management Plan for the Central Virginia Planning District. The Water Resources and Sanitation Technical committees of the Central Virginia Planning District Commission worked closely with this engineering firm in the development of this report. William S. Slagle is the representative from Appomattox on this committee, and has served as its chairman for approximately three years.

Later, the 208 Plans were prepared for both the Roanoke and James River Basins and the Town was insistent upon maintaining the original stream classification and regional plan for Appomattox.

In March 1975, Councilman Spiggle and W. S. Slagle appeared before the State Water Control Board in Richmond and made a strong plea for early funding of the proposed Appomattox regional sewage treatment plant. In the summer of 1975 the Town was notified that it would, upon application, be considered for Step I funding. We were notified on Feb. 26, 1976, that our application for Step I funding had been approved.

What is Step I funding? Step I, or facilities planning, is the first of a three step process toward the construction of a regional sewage treatment plant.

Therefore, if we are successful in our application for Step II or detail design, we will be invited to apply for Step III which is construction funding.

This sewerage program probably has more to offer the Appomattox Community than any other program for it will help determine the growth patterns that will emerge in the Appomattox Community.

Of course, such programs are expensive even though the local share may be only 25 percent, but if Appomattox is to prosper, we must move to provide this basic service to meet the present and future demands.

Monthly Activities For Area Catholics

Hope you all made it to the Mardi Gras Mass on Tuesday. The Appomattox-Concord Catholics selected a name for the new mission parish. What name was selected? Unless you were there you'll have to wait for the next issue of the Times-Virginian to find out. Cheap Trick? No, just a way of saying we missed you and need you. Come take part in our community activities.

Sundays beginning March 7 at 5 p.m. we will be meeting around the parish in small groups as part of the Ashes to Easter Program entitled "Renewal Evenings". Come together with friends and grow closer to Christ. If you missed the Mardi Gras celebration contact Mary Graf for meeting locations (993-2122).

March we will celebrate the liturgy at 6:45. The place has not been decided on, so you will be contacted by phone when the location is set.

Dr. Elenor Lewis continues the study of the Acts and St. Paul this month at Laurel Stanley's, 45 Westview Circle in Thomas Terrace on March 31 from 10 to 12 noon. For carpooling from Appomattox meet at Wilbun's at 9:30 a.m. For a guide and directions if you are driving, meet at Thomas Terrace Exxon Station at 9:50 a.m.

Hope you can make it this month if you haven't come before!

People From The Past

By Harriett A. Chilton

He enlisted on May 24, 1861 for one year in the Appomattox County, Va. Company of Cavalry, commanded by Captain Joel W. Flood who was the grandfather of the late Senator Harry Flood Byrd, Senior of Virginia. This group later became Company H, Second Virginia Cavalry. Private Cheatham was 21 years of age at time of enlistment. His horse was valued at $125.00 and his equipment at $25.00.

I was fortunate to find a record of his Confederate service at the National Archives in Washington, D.C. Muster rolls there show that in January and February 1862 he was absent on detached service with horses at Warrenton, Va. The rolls also show that he re-enlisted for two years or the duration of the war.

Private Cheatham was wounded at the Second Battle of Manassas on August 30, 1862. This battle is described in the book Bull Run Remembers by Joseph Mason as being the hottest close cavalry combat, for its size, of the war in Virginia. Colonel Thomas T. Munford, Commander of the Second Virginia Cavalry, reported "My regiment went up tin splendid order and made a gallant a charge as was ever seen." In Burke Davis' book Jeb Stuart, Stuart said about this battle ". . . It was a brilliant affair . . . Col. T. T. Munford and his 2nd Va. Cavalry won most of the glory."

Muster rolls of September and October 1862 say of Private Cheatham "Wounded August 30 and sent to Hospital" and later records show in hospitals in Lynchburg and Farmville in 1863 and 1864. On the Register of cases examined by the Board of Surgeons at General Hospital, Farmville, Va. on April 26, 1864 my grandfather was listed as R. A. Cheatham, Pvt. Co. H. 2nd Regmt. Va., Cav. Wickham's Brigade, under disability discharge on May 7, 1864.

His discharge carried the following statement: "I certify that I have carefully examined the said Robert A. Cheatham of Capt. C. E. Webb's Company and find him incapable of performing the duties of a soldier because of a gunshot wound received at the 2nd Battle of Manassas 30th August 1862, ball entering left side of the spinal column opposite second dorsal vertebra, and exiting between second and third ribs near shoulder joint, severing (as we suppose) nerves supplying voluntary motion and causing total paralysis of that arm. . . ." The description given on his discharge is that he was 23 years of age, 6 feet in height, fair complexion, grey eyes, light hair, occupation farmer. At the bottom of the discharge is a notation "This soldier having the permission of his officers and Commanding General to be placed on the 'Invalid Corps' prefers a discharge and the board thinks him a very proper subject inasmuch as he is able to support himself without aid from the Government."

R. A. Cheatham was married on October 24, 1866 to Harriet Nelson Cawthorn, daughter of the Rev. John H. Cawthorn, a Baptist minister. They were the parents of eleven children, the youngest of whom, Russell Aubrey Cheatham, served with the Army in Europe during World War I. R. A. Cheatham died Nov. 6, 1922 and is buried in the Cheatham Family Cemetery three miles southwest of Appomattox, Va. on State Route 719.

I have always heard that my Grandfather was left on the battlefield for dead, but an Appomattox soldier passing by found him and took him to the medical tent. They cleansed his chest wound by passing a silk handerchief through it. His paralyzed left arm was cured by massaging over a period of years. My grandmother's family did not want her to marry him as they did not think a man with only one arm could support her, a problem soldiers of all wars have had to face.

Memorial service for deceased members of the Young Hearts Club, Lenwood Leslie Stanley, Dottie C. Irby and Mildred L. Bailey, was held Friday at the meeting of the Young Hearts Club at Memorial United Methodist Church.

Young Hearts Club Held Memorial Service

On February 26 the Young Hearts Club met at Memorial United Methodist Church with 47 members present. Mrs. Helen Gunter, the president, presided over the business session. After which the host church pastor, the Rev. Henry Riley, conducted devotions and very impressive memorial service for three deceased members. They were Mr. L. E. Stanley, Mrs. Dottie Irby and Miss Mildred Bailey. In closing the services a white carnation was presented to the nearest kin of each member. Following this, roll was called and dues for the year were collected. Three new members were added to the list.

Mrs. Neola Smith led the group in playing games which all enjoyed. Highlighting the program was a contest in recognizing members in photos taken during their younger years. These included pictures from babyhood through teenage which were displayed on a table. Mrs. Geneva Childers won the prize for having recognized the greatest number. Mr. Riley was awarded the prize for being the cutest while Mrs. Elizabeth Marsh received the honor of being the prettiest and, also, having the oldest picture on display.

After enjoying lunch brought by each member, the group disbanded and went home with the thought, "Another delightful meeting."

Cannan Baptist

The Baby Contest held last Sunday was done in the order of a three-way sermonette. The Revs. Deb. B. Christian's subjects - "Looking In the Right Direction, B. T. Christian, "Come and See", J. D. Scruggs, ended "What Is This". A special solo was rendered by Pastor C. L. Elliott. Offering by Deacons Fred Ackers, G. W. Scruggs and Harrison Kelso of Mt. Shiloah.

Babies in the contest were as follows: first prize, Randy Abbitt, $76.10, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Abbitt, of Spout Spring; Second prize, Tylone Hunter, $67.01, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Hunter of Concord; Third prize Coatessa Hancock $63.36, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Hancock of Sleepy Hollow Trailer Court; Andrea Perkins, $58, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Perkins of Buckingham and Lamonte Watts, $37.75, son of Miss Bridgette Watts of Spout Spring.

We would like to thank the parents, ministers, captains who have worked so faithfully together and Rev. C. L. Elliott and the Canaan Baptist Church for letting us sponsor the program. May God bless and keep each of you. Total amount raised $304.49. The Soul Searchers and Gospel 4.

WE'VE BEEN MINDING YOUR BUSINESS FOR A LONG, LONG TIME.
Five generations. That qualifies as a long time in anybody's bank. We've been around since 1865 and have helped a lot of Virginians solve a lot of financial problems. Like keeping a hardware business hammering away. Or a farm growing.
One of the best methods of making sure that your affairs (business or personal) stay in order is to name Fidelity as the executor of your will or as trustee of your estate. Or both.
Acting as executor of a will isn't easy, and we don't ask one person to do it. Of course, you have one person to contact, but he's backed up by a staff of experts. Your executor must tend to many details: he must plan for the current needs of your beneficiaries or your business, contact insurance and investment companies, check on mortgages, file complicated tax returns and on and on. The details are staggering. But since our people have years of experience they'll probably save your beneficiaries a good deal of money.
There's no doubt that you need a will, and you probably need a trust account also. Because a trust account can really save your beneficiaries money. When you pass on and for years to come.
You see, our trust experts can move money around (via prudent investments, tax brackets, property management, and so on) so that you get every tax advantage available. And by now, there's hardly a situation we haven't come up against. After all, we've been at this for a long, long time. But c'mon, test us. Call one of our trust officers. Call Floyd L. Eggleston at 352-7124.
